COMMON ORAL JUDGEMENT

All these five Criminal Revision Applications are decided by this common order.

All the contentions raised in these applications can be raised before the Trial Court by the petitioners.

For exemption of attendance the petitioners may make appropriate application before the concerned Court and except for the presence of the accused persons required at the time of recording plea or when it is otherwise necessary, the learned Magistrate may not insist upon the personal presence of the accused persons on each and every date of hearing. Learned Counsel for the petitioners seeks to withdraw all and each of these applications and the same are accordingly dismissed as withdrawn. Rule is hereby discharged in all and each of the five Revision Applications. No order as to costs.
